The Moon administration has a vision and a grand strategy for the triangular relations between Seoul-ASEAN-Pyongyang (SAP): “We will expand support from the NSP (New Southern Policy) target countries to create a virtuous cycle that will help realize complete denuclearization and permanent peace on the Korean Peninsula and improve inter-Korean and US-North Korea relations”. The unique role of ASEAN states for peace in the Korean peninsula was evidenced by the Trump-Kim summits in Singapore and Hanoi. The conference will examine the challenges and prospects of this strategic triangle for peace, cooperation and development in East Asia. Especially important are the roles and perspectives of Southeast Asian countries. This conference seeks to highlight a set of triangular relations (SAP) which is important but rarely covered by the literature on geopolitics, diplomacy, economics and culture in East Asia.

~ Programme ~

As at 2 Oct

9.00 – 9.05 am  Welcome Remarks
  Singapore Time  Prof Bert Hofman
               Director, EAI

9.05 – 9.25 am  Keynote Speech
               H E Ambassador Ahn Young-jip
               Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary,
               Embassy of the Republic of Korea in Singapore

9.30 am – 10.30 am  Session 1 - Triangular Relations
               Chaired by Prof Bert Hofman

    Prof Park Hahn-kyu, Kyung Hee University, Republic of Korea

2.  ASEAN “Centrality”, ASEAN Regional Forum, Summitries and the Korean Peninsula
    Dr Nur Shahadah Jamil, National University of Malaysia

2.  Pyongyang’s Relations with ASEAN States and Seoul: ASEAN Should Become an Epistemic Hub for the Korean Peninsula Issue
    Prof Kim Sung Chull, Seoul National University, Republic of Korea

10.30 – 10.45 am  Tea Break

10.45 am – 11.45 am  Session 2 - ASEAN States and the Korean Peninsula (I)
                     Chaired by Dr Sarah Teo

    Dr Ha Anh Tuan, Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam
5. Cambodia’s “Special Relationship” with North Korea and Friendly Ties with South Korea
   Amb Julio A Jeldres, Counsellor to the Cabinet of His Majesty the King of Cambodia

6. Laos: Friendly Relations with Socialist and Democratic Regimes in the Korean Peninsula
   Mr Sulathin Thiladej, Institute of Foreign Affairs, Laos

12 noon – 1.00 pm Lunch

1.00 – 2.00 pm Session 3 - ASEAN States and the Korean Peninsula (II)
   Chaired by Ms Moe Thuzar

7. Singapore’s Relations with North and South Korea: In Pursuit of Pragmatism and Principles
   Dr Sarah Teo, S Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

8. Indonesia’s Foreign Policy Towards Seoul and Pyongyang
   Dr Ardhitya Eduard Yeremia Lalisang and Mr Muhammad Arif, University of Indonesia

9. The Philippines-South Korea-North Korea Triangular Relationship: Between a Long-Time Security Partner versus a
   Traditional Security Threat
   Prof Renato Cruz De Castro, De La Salle University, The Philippines

2.00 – 3.00 pm Session 4 - Southeast Asian States and the Korean Peninsula (III)
   Chaired by Dr Chiang Min-Hua

10. Malaysia’s Flexible and Independent Relations with the North and South
    Dr Hoo Chiew Ping, National University of Malaysia

11. Thailand’s Omni-Directional Relations in the Korean Peninsula
    Assoc Prof Pavin Chachavalpongpun, Kyoto University, Japan

12. Myanmar between the Two Koreas in the 21st Century
    Ms Moe Thuzar, ISEAS – Yusof Ishak Institute, Singapore

3.00 – 3.15 pm Tea Break

3.15 – 4.00 pm Session 5 - States, Non-State Actors and Markets in the Triangular Relations
   Chaired by Dr Chen Gang

13. Human Security: North Korean Refugees, Conduit of ASEAN States and South Korean Sanctuary
    Prof Brendan Howe, Ewha Womans University, Republic of Korea

14. Triangular Economic Ties between ROK, DPRK and ASEAN
    Dr Chiang Min-Hua, East Asian Institute, NUS

4.00 – 4.05 pm Closing Remarks
   Prof Bert Hofman
   Director, EAI

End of Conference

Registration prior to the conference is required.
For more details, please visit https://research.nus.edu.sg/eai/2020/09/19/conference/
Thank you.
Bio profiles of speakers and moderators
(in the order of the conference programme)

Bert Hofman, a Dutch national, is Director of the East Asian Institute at NUS and Professor of Practice at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy. Before joining NUS, he was with the World Bank for 27 years, 22 of which in Asia, and 12 of which on China. Prof Hofman was the World Bank Country Director for China 2014-2019, the Country Economist 2004-2008, and the Chief Economist for the World Bank in the East Asia and Pacific region 2011-2014. He also worked on Indonesia, the Philippines, Korea and Mongolia. Before joining the World Bank, Prof Hofman worked at the Kiel Institute of World Economics, The OECD and NMB Bank (Now ING). He has extensive experience in advising governments around the region on a wide range of development issues, and published on fiscal policy, debt issues, and China’s and Indonesia’s recent economic history.

Ahn Young-jip graduated from the Seoul National University, Korea, with a Bachelor of Arts (International Relations) and holds a Master Degree in International Relations from the University of Pennsylvania, USA (1992). Ambassador Ahn Young-jip was Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the Hellenic Republic from October 2015 to April 2018. Ambassador Ahn started his diplomatic career with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) in June 1987. He has held a variety of positions which include: Ambassador and Deputy Permanent Representative in the Korean Permanent Mission to the UN Office and other International Organizations in Geneva, Switzerland (2014); Director-General for Overseas Koreans and Consular Affairs, MOFAT (2012); Deputy Director-General, North American Affairs Bureau, MOFAT (2010); Counsellor, Korean Embassy in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland (2007); Policy Director, Korea Peninsula Energy Development Organization (KEDO), New York, USA (2005); Director, Policy Planning and Coordination Division, MOFAT (2003); Director, Human Resources Management Division, MOFAT (2002); Assistant Secretary, Office of the President (2000); First Secretary, Korean Embassy in Nigeria (1997); Second Secretary, Korean Embassy in the United States of America (1994). He is married with one daughter and one son.

Hahnkyu Park is Professor of International Studies at Kyung Hee University, Republic of Korea. He is former dean of the College of International Studies and the Graduate School of Pac-Pacific International Studies at Kyung Hee University. He has published numerous books and articles both in English and Korean on the subjects of East Asian international relations, US-China relations, Korea-Japan relations, South Korea’s foreign policies, nuclear nonproliferation in East Asia and human security. His recent articles include “Game of Patience: Is Complete Denuclearisation of North Korea Possible?” (2019), “Trust But Verify: Donald Trump, Kim Jong Un and a Denuclearising North Korea after the Singapore Summit” (2018), “Trump versus Kim Jong-un: Four Scenarios of U.S.-North Korea Relations” (2017), and “The China-Japan-South Korea Trilateral Summit: Realpolitik or Liberal Peace?” (2017). He completed his BA at Yonsei University, and both MA and PhD in Political Science at the Columbia University in the city of New York.

Nur Shahadah Jamil obtained her PhD in Strategic and Security Studies from the National University of Malaysia and is an associate member of Institute of China Studies, University of Malaya. Her PhD dissertation titled, Evolution in China’s South China Sea Policy Process: A Neoclassical Realism Explanation, focused primarily on explaining how structural factors and elites’ perception (after being filtered by relevant domestic considerations) contribute to the evolution of China’s South China Sea Policy, as well as the evolution in the patterns of pluralisation in the policy process from 1949 to 2017. Dr Shahadah is also a Research Fellow of the East Asian International Relations (EAIR) Caucus, a research platform for exchange, engagement and empowerment among foreign affairs professionals and international relations scholars in Malaysia. Her research concentrates mainly on China’s foreign policy, South China Sea, Southeast Asian responses to the Belt and Road Initiative and East Asian security. Dr Shahadah was also one of the recipients of the Taiwan Fellowship Award in 2017 and conducted a four-month research with the National Chengchi University, Taipei, Taiwan. She is currently serving as a special officer to the deputy chief commissioner (prevention) at the Malaysian Anti-Corruption Commission. She can be contacted via Kim Sung Chull is Humanities Korea Professor, Institute for Peace and Unification Studies, Seoul National University. Prior to this, he served as a senior fellow at the Korea Institute for National Unification (1992-2003) and Professor at the Hiroshima Peace Institute—Hiroshima City University (2003-2012). Kim has headed a number of projects on nuclear proliferation, state violence and regional cooperation/conflict, and is now preparing a book on the political economy of the relationship between China and its neighbours. Kim’s recently published books are Partnership within Hierarchy: The Evolving East Asian Security Triangle (State University of New York Press, 2017, single authored) and North Korea and Nuclear Weapons: Entering the New Era of Deterrence (Georgetown University Press, 2017, coedited with Michael Cohen). He is also the author of a number of articles published in such academic journals as Systems Research and Behavioral Science (formerly Behavioral Science), Asian Studies Review, Pacific Review, Eastern European Politics and Issues and Studies. Kim is currently the editor of Asian Journal of Peacebuilding, a SCOPUS-indexed peace studies journal.

Sarah Teo is Research Fellow with the Regional Security Architecture Programme at the S Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore. Her research interests include multilateral security and defence cooperation in ASEAN and the Asia Pacific, middle powers in the Asia Pacific, as well as IR theory. She is the co-author (with Ralf Emmers) of Security Strategies of Middle Powers in the Asia Pacific (Melbourne University Publishing, 2018) and co-editor (with Bhubhindar Singh), of Minilateralism in the Indo-Pacific: The Quadrilateral Security Dialogue, Lancang-Mekong Cooperation Mechanism, and ASEAN (Routledge, 2020). Her articles have also been published in peer-reviewed journals including The Pacific Review, International Relations of the Asia-Pacific and Australian Journal of International Affairs, as well as platforms such as East Asia Forum, Channel NewsAsia and PacNet. From 2012 to 2015, she was a delegate to the Track II Network of ASEAN Defence and Security Institutions. She has a PhD from the University of Sydney, MSc (International Relations) from RSIS and Bachelor of Communication Studies (Honours) from NTU.

Ha Anh Tuan is a senior researcher at the Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam. He completed his Master’s degree at the Australian National University and PhD degree at the University of New South Wales (Australia). Dr Tuan has background in international relations and politics. His research interests are international security of the Asia Pacific and Vietnamese diplomacy. Dr Tuan is also a frequent media commentator.

Julio A Jeldres was born in Santiago de Chile. He became interested in Cambodia’s contemporary history in 1967 following the visit of Jacqueline Kennedy to Cambodia. Amb Jeldres began a correspondence and long-standing friendship with His Late Majesty King Norodom Sihanouk in late 1967. He served as Deputy Chief of Cabinet, Chief of the Private Secretariat and Special Assistant to His Late Majesty from 1981 to 1991 and as Official Biographer since 1993. He was granted the personal rank of Ambassador by His Late Majesty the King Father in June 1991. Since April 2013 he has been a Counsellor to the Cabinet of His Majesty the King of Cambodia with the protocol rank of minister of state. He holds a PhD in history from Monash University (2015) and is the author of several books, book chapters and research papers on Cambodia’s external relations, politics, the monarchy, the Royal Family and the late King Father. He is an Adjunct Research Fellow at Monash University’s School of Historical Studies and International Relations and Senior Visiting Research Fellow at the Sleuk Rith Institute of the Documentation Center of Cambodia.

Sulathin Thiladej is Research Fellow, Institute of Foreign Affairs (IFA), Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MoFA), Laos. He started his career with the MoFA in 2004 and served in various positions including secretary to foreign minister and diplomat at the Embassy and Permanent Representative of Laos to ASEAN in Jakarta. Since 2018, he has been appointed as director of strategic and international studies division at the IFA. His research focuses on international studies of major powers’ relations with ASEAN, and Laos’ relationships with China and Vietnam. Mr Thiladej obtained a BA in International Relations from the Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam in 2003, research award under APIC Ushiba memorial fellowship to undertake research at Reitaku University in 2008 and a MA in Public Policy from the Australian National University in 2018. Currently, he is a PhD candidate at the East China Normal University.
Moe Thuzar is a Fellow at the ISEAS-Yusof Ishak Institute where she co-coordinates the Myanmar Studies Programme. She was previously a lead researcher at the ASEAN Studies Centre at ISEAS. Moe joined ISEAS in 2008 after spending close to 10 years at the ASEAN Secretariat coordinating regional cooperation in social and human development, including ASEAN Plus Three cooperation in these functional areas. A former diplomat, Moe is researching on the socio-cultural underpinnings of Burma’s Cold War foreign policy for her PhD and spent the 2019-20 academic year as a Fox International Fellow at Yale University’s MacMillan Center.

Ardhitya Eduard Yeremia Lalisan is a faculty member of the Department of International Relations, Universitas Indonesia. He completed his doctoral studies at the School of International Relations, Research School of Southeast Asian Studies, Xiamen University, China. His research interests include foreign policy analysis, international relations in East Asia, China's foreign policy to Southeast Asia and Indonesia’s foreign policy.

Muhamad Arif is a lecturer at the Department of International Relations, Universitas Indonesia, from which he obtained his bachelor’s degree. He obtained MSc in Strategic Studies from the S Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Singapore. Arif’s research interests include international relations theories, regional security, and Indonesian foreign and security policymaking.

Renato Cruz De Castro is a distinguished professor in the International Studies Department, De La Salle University, Manila and holds the Dr Aurelio Calderon Chair in Philippines-American Relation. He was a visiting fellow in the National Institute for Defense Studies of the Japanese Ministry of Defense in the summer of 2018. He was based in Japan Institute of International Affairs from June to August 2017 as a visiting researcher. From September to December 2016, he was based in East-West Center in Washington DC as the US-ASEAN Fulbright Initiative Researcher from the Philippines. He is an alumnus of the Daniel Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies in Hawaii, USA. In 2009, Professor De Castro became the US State Department ASEAN Research Fellow from the Philippines and was based in the Political Science Department of Arizona State University. Professor De Castro conducts several professional courses on international relations, strategic and security studies in the National Defense College, General Staff College of the Philippines and the Foreign Service Institute. As a member of the Board of Trustees of the Albert Del Rosario Institute of Strategic and International Studies, he writes monthly opinion columns for The Philippine Star and Business World. He has written over 100 articles on international relations and security that have been published in a number of scholarly journals and edited works in the Philippines, Japan, South Korea, Canada, Malaysia, France, Singapore, Taiwan, Germany, the United Kingdom, Australia and the United States. He earned his PhD from the Government and International Studies Department of the University of South Carolina as a Fulbright Scholar in 2001, and obtained his BA and two master’s degrees from the University of the Philippines.

Chiang Min-Hua is Research Fellow at the East Asian Institute, National University of Singapore. Her research interests include Asia-Pacific regionalism, trade and investment, issues related to economic growth and development in East Asia. Dr Chiang has published three single-authored books, including Post-Industrial Development in East Asia: Taiwan and South Korea in Comparison (Palgrave Pivot, 2018), Contemporary South Korean Economy: Challenges and Prospects (World Scientific, 2017) and China-Taiwan Rapprochement: The Political Economy of Cross-Strait Relations (Routledge, 2016). Her articles have appeared in various journals such as The Pacific Review, Thunderbird International Business Review, China Perspectives, East Asia: An International Quarterly, Journal of China Tourism Research, Revue de la Regulation and Journal of the Asia-Pacific Economy.

Hoo Chiew Ping is Senior Lecturer in the Strategic Studies and International Relations Programme at the National University of Malaysia (UKM). Dr Hoo is concurrently co-founder and co-convener of the East Asian International Relations (EAIR) Caucus at UKM, Adjunct Lecturer at the Institute of Diplomacy and Foreign Relations and Guest Lecturer at the Malaysian Armed Forces Defence College. Her past appointments include Korea Foundation Fellow for New Southern Policy at the Institute of Strategic and International Studies Malaysia 2019-2020; the Korean Ministry of Unification’s Emerging Leaders Fellowship in 2018; Shangri-la Dialogue’s Southeast Asian Young Leaders Programme Associate Research Fellow at the International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS-Asia) 2017-2018; Academy of Korean Studies Research Fellow in 2011; and Korea Foundation Field Research Fellow at the Seoul National University in 2010. Her main research interests include the Korean Peninsula affairs, South Korea's foreign policy, US policy in Asia, IR theory, and the security-economic linkages between Northeast Asia and Southeast Asia. Dr Hoo has two forthcoming co-editing book volumes on ASEAN-ROK relations and North Korea-Southeast Asia relations. She received her PhD in Politics and International Relations from La Trobe University, Australia. She can be contacted at hoo@ukm.edu.my.

Pavin Chachavalpongpun is Associate Professor at the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, Kyoto University. Pavin obtained his PhD from the School of Oriental and African Studies. He is the author of numerous books including A Plastic Nation: The Curse of Thainess in Thai-Burmese Relations and Reinventing Thailand: Thaksin and His Foreign Policy. He is also the chief editor of the online journal, Kyoto Review of Southeast Asia, in which all articles are translated from English into Japanese, Thai, Bahasa Indonesia, Filipino and Vietnamese.

Brendan Howe (PhD TCD, MA UKC, BA/MA Oxon) is Professor of International Relations at the Graduate School of International Studies, Ewha Womans University, South Korea. He has held fellowships at the Freie Universität Berlin, University of Sydney, East-West Center, Georgetown University, UNIMAS and Beijing Foreign Studies University. His research focuses on governance, human security, peacebuilding and post-conflict development in Asia. He has authored/edited more than 90 publications including UN Governance in Cambodia and Timor-Leste (Palgrave 2020), Regional Cooperation for Peace and Development: Japan and South Korea in Southeast Asia (Routledge, 2018); National Security, State-centricity, and Governance in East Asia (Palgrave, 2017); Peacekeeping and the Asia-Pacific (Brill, 2016); Democratic Governance in Northeast Asia (Palgrave, 2015); Post-Conflict Development in East Asia (Ashgate, 2014); and The Protection and Promotion of Human Security in East Asia (Palgrave, 2013).